

Activity Report

2023

The past year was a success for the INPLP, marked by robust collaboration and network growth. The annual conference in Dublin, hosted by Rob Corbet (Arthur Cox), was a key milestone. Our priorities included strengthening collaboration, facilitating knowledge transfer, and expanding the network.

Dr. Tobias Höllwarth
President, INPLP

The International Network of Privacy Law Professionals had another exceptionally successful year in 2023. We witnessed the addition of numerous law firms to our organization, published nearly 100 articles, hosted a conference in Dublin, and implemented various initiatives to enhance the development of our network.

Looking ahead to 2024, our primary objective is to maintain our robust growth. This involves fostering open dialogue, encouraging the exchange of ideas, and realizing the full potential of our network, ensuring that each member can extract maximum value.

Kind regards,
Dr. Tobias Höllwarth

About INPLP

INPLP is a not-for-profit international network of qualified professionals providing expert counsel on legal and compliance issues relating to data privacy and associated matters.

INPLP provides targeted and concise guidance, multi-jurisdictional views and practical information to address the ever-increasing and intensifying field of data protection challenges.

INPLP fulfils its mission by sharing know-how, conducting joint research into data processing practices and engaging proactively in international cooperation in both the private and public sectors.

INPLP[®] International Network of Privacy Law Professionals

Introduction

The previous year marked a significant period for the INPLP, highlighting the positive progression arising from our joint efforts, steadfast dedication, and continuous expansion of our network. Additionally, the successful hosting of a physical conference in Dublin underscored our commitment to establishing strong international partnerships.

Growth

We are pleased to welcome 11 new partners to our network as we work towards expanding our reach. This advancement strengthens our ability to operate globally and offer insights into data privacy practices across diverse regions. Currently, our network has expanded to include 66 members, representing 52 law firms across 40 countries.

New members joining the network last year:

Peck Advogados / Brazil
 Chancery Advocates / Barbados
 Hayes solicitors / Ireland
 MGLP Rechtsanwälte / Austria
 Palmer Legal / Jamaica
 Alessandri Abogados / Chile

CVG Law Firm / Turkey
 barta.legal / Czech Republic
 Tevetoglu Legal / Turkey
 KARAMANOLIS & KARAMANOLIS / Turkey
 YAZICIOGLU Legal / Turkey

Conference

The 8th INPLP conference was a resounding success. For the first time since the network's founding, the conference was hosted in Dublin, departing from its traditional venue in Vienna. The main topics of discussion revolved around AI and biometric law. We were delighted to welcome representatives from Chile, Argentina, Ecuador, Mexico, the USA, Canada, and various European countries.

Publications

The INPLP's commitment to advancing knowledge on the legal aspects of data and technology has yielded positive results, with nearly 100 articles on privacy law published in 2023. This accomplishment strongly reflects our mission to offer concise and tailored guidance, provide comprehensive perspectives on multiple jurisdictions, and offer insights that address the constantly expanding and evolving landscape of data protection challenges.
